Quality, beauty and innovation are the three distinctive principles that define the Artioli brand

Impeccable craftsmanship and distinct style best describe an Artioli product, yet the story behind each product is much more extensive. Artioli's story begins with passion, that of its founder Severino who at a young age worked hard to learn the art of shoemaking before establishing his own workshop. As with most quality artisanal brands, Severino's son Vito joined the company. He brought an air of change pushing for a new collection with innovative designs while keeping faith with his father's craftsmanship. This was met with success launching the Artioli name in the international sphere. Their footwear is admired for the use of exotic skins, contemporary styles and of course artisanal quality. By the mid-1980s a new generation, Vito's son Andrea enters the company bringing a new business approach expanding the product range to include belts, luggage, gloves and leather jackets. Today, the "Artioli style" recognized and highly appreciated around the globe. All models shown are available at: artiolimilano.com.
